Terrence, Michael — thank you for the opportunity to put this together. It sets out where 21 Heatherbank sits in today's market and lays out the two options in front of the family: selling, or staying in the home and accessing the equity through a reverse mortgage. The sections on value come first; the options follow. Nothing here is a recommendation — our reading of the numbers is noted once, at the end, and the decision is the family's.

SECTION 01 · THE PROPERTY

A 3,307 sq ft executive two-storey on a 60-foot cul-de-sac lot.

21 Heatherbank Trail is a detached two-storey built in 1990 in the Rouge Park pocket at Sheppard and Meadowvale, on a cul-de-sac at the base of the Rouge Valley. It is minutes to Rouge National Urban Park, the Toronto Zoo, the 401 and Rouge Hill GO. The home has 3,307 sq ft above grade, four bedrooms, two full bathrooms and a powder room, a main-floor fireplace, an attached double garage and a finished basement.

Parcel outline, Teranet.

What stands out

- The widest frontage of any four-bedroom sale in the pocket this summer, bar one
- Finished basement, where both same-era comparables were unfinished
- Cul-de-sac position at the edge of the Rouge Valley
- The largest above-grade floor area of the same-era set

SECTION 02 · OWNERSHIP HISTORY

Twenty-three years of ownership, and what that means at sale.

Date	Event	Price
March 28, 1991	First transfer from the builder	$388,900
September 26, 2003	Purchased by the Outar family	$460,000
September 2026	Estimated market value, midpoint of the range in Section 06	≈ $1,375,000

Source: Teranet sales history for PIN 062060583. The midpoint is an estimate for discussion, not an appraisal.

From the 2003 purchase to today's midpoint is a gain of about $915,000 before selling costs, or roughly 4.9% a year compounded over 23 years.

SECTION 03 · THE MARKET TODAY

A balanced fall market: homes are selling at about 99% of list, and roughly a quarter still sell over asking.

GTA FREEHOLD SALES BY MONTH, 2026 — ALL FIVE REGIONS

SYNERGY extract from MLS®, January 1 – September 15, 2026 (26,295 freehold sales January–August).

Toronto's detached market peaked in the spring. The median sale reached $1.33M in March and stayed above $1.30M through May, then eased through the summer to $1.18M in August and $1.13M in the first half of September. Sold-to-list has stayed between 98% and 100% all year; what has changed is the amount of competition. Locally the picture is steady: 48 detached sales in Rouge E11 this year at 99% of list, with almost a third selling over asking.

SECTION 04 · COMPARABLE SALES SINCE JULY 1

Six sales of 3,000 sq ft or more in the surrounding pockets.

The MLS® search covered detached two-storeys with four or more bedrooms, three or more bathrooms and a garage, closed on or after July 1, in the Rouge Park, Highland Creek, Centennial and Port Union pockets. With the floor area confirmed at 3,307 sq ft, the eleven sales between 2,000 and 2,600 sq ft describe a different buyer and have been left out. Six remain: five at 3,000 sq ft or more, plus 65 Brumwell Street at 2,917 sq ft, kept because its four-bedroom, three-bathroom layout matches the subject more closely than any other sale this summer.

SECTION 05 · WHAT YOUR STREET DID

Forty-eight detached sales in Rouge E11 this year — and only five the size of yours.

Zooming out from the six direct comparables to the whole pocket gives a sense of how often a home like yours comes up, and what happens when one does.

Across Rouge E11, 48 detached homes sold between January and August at a median of $1,072,500 and 99% of list, with 31% selling over asking. Only five of those were 2,800 sq ft or larger. Those five ran a median of $1,412,000. Scarcity at this size is the single biggest thing working in your favour.

SECTION 05 · WHAT EACH SALE TELLS US

Two close comparables, and four that set the upper limit.

4 Atrium Lane · Rouge E11 — $1,465,000

SOLD JULY 25 · 10 DAYS · 113% OF LIST

The closest comparable: same pocket, same era and the same size class. A 1986 all-brick executive home at Port Union and Sheppard with just over 3,000 sq ft, five bedrooms and four bathrooms on a 70-foot lot, basement unfinished. Listed at $1,298,888 and sold in ten days for $1,465,000 — the best current evidence of what buyers will pay for a large, original-condition home in Rouge Park when the price invites competition.

81 Dalmatian Cres · Highland Creek — $1,250,000

SOLD JULY 15 · 90 DAYS · 97% OF FINAL LIST

Built in 1990 for its original owner: 3,122 sq ft, four bathrooms, 9-foot ceilings, unfinished basement, on a 49 × 100 lot. First listed at $1,480,000 in April and sold three months and $230,000 of reductions later. The lower end for a same-era home of this size, and a reminder of what happens when a large original home opens too high.

65 Brumwell St · Centennial — $1,210,000

SOLD JULY 22 · 15 DAYS · 115% OF LIST

Just under 3,000 sq ft at 2,917 (MPAC), but kept because the layout matches: built 1996, four bedrooms, three bathrooms, partially finished basement, on a 52 × 104 lot. Listed at $1,048,880 with an offer date and sold $161,000 over — a sharp list price still produces competition for a large three-bathroom home in good, unrenovated condition.

48 Tanis Cres · Centennial — $1,485,870

SOLD SEPTEMBER · 13 DAYS · 106% OF LIST

A 2007 build of 3,000–3,500 sq ft on a Centennial cul-de-sac, with 9-foot ceilings, a renovated kitchen, ensuite access for all four bedrooms and a finished basement. Newer and better appointed than the subject. Listed at $1,399,999 and sold over asking in under two weeks.

35 Starfire Dr · Highland Creek — $1,450,000

SOLD AUGUST 4 · 18 DAYS · 91% OF LIST

A custom build under five years old: 3,015 sq ft, 10-foot ceilings and a finished separate-entrance basement. Listed at $1,599,000 and sold at $1,450,000. Even new construction at this size closed below $1.5M this summer.

438 Brownfield Gdns · Rouge E10 — $1,900,000

SOLD SEPTEMBER · 44 DAYS · 97% OF LIST

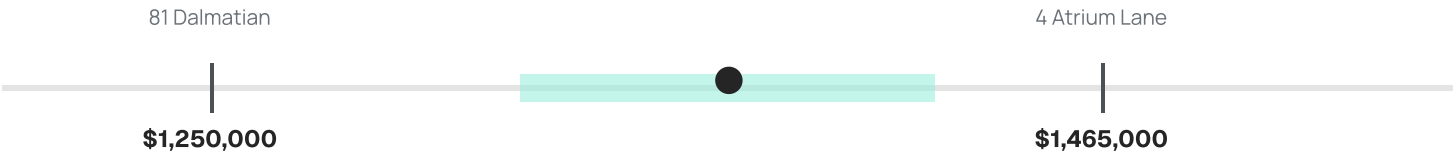

The top of the local market: a 3,400 sq ft custom rebuild near Port Union and the 401, with six bathrooms and luxury finishes on a 65 × 137 lot. Included to show what the area can reach with a full rebuild; it is not a like-for-like comparable.

THE PATTERN

Large original-condition homes from this era sold between $1,250,000 (Dalmatian: smaller lot, unfinished basement, priced high at first) and $1,465,000 (Atrium: 70-foot lot, same pocket, priced to draw competition). Newer and custom homes of the same size sold at $1,450,000–$1,486,000, and the full custom rebuild at $1,900,000. At 3,307 sq ft with a finished basement on a 60-foot cul-de-sac lot, 21 Heatherbank sits inside the first band and, priced well, toward the top of it.

SECTION 06 · WHERE THE EVIDENCE LANDS

Estimated market value.

The shaded band is the estimated value range; the dot is the midpoint. The two markers are the same-era comparables that bracket it.

Consideration	Effect on value
Closest comparable: 4 Atrium Lane, same pocket and era, 3,000+ sq ft on a 70-foot lot	$1,465,000
Second comparable: 81 Dalmatian, 1990, 3,122 sq ft, original condition, unfinished basement, 49-foot lot	$1,250,000
Size: at 3,307 sq ft the subject is the largest of the same-era set	upward
Basement: finished, where both comparables were unfinished	upward
Lot: 60 × 112 on a cul-de-sac, wider than Dalmatian's 49 feet and narrower than Atrium's 70	between the two
Bathrooms: two full and one half, against four in both comparables; buyers of a 3,300 sq ft home expect a second ensuite	downward
Upper limit: new and custom homes of this size sold at $1.45–1.49M this summer	caps the top
Market timing: Toronto detached medians about 10% off the April peak; sold-to-list steady at 99%	neutral

Adjustments are directional. The range is the reconciliation, weighted for current conditions and for the bathroom count.

$1,325,000 – $1,425,000

estimated market value · midpoint $1,375,000

$1,399,000 – $1,429,000

suggested list range if pricing to value

The confirmed floor area places the subject in a smaller and more expensive group of sales than the search first suggested. Against the two same-era comparables, the extra size and the finished basement lift 21 Heatherbank above Dalmatian's $1,250,000, while the 2.5-bathroom layout and the narrower lot keep it below Atrium's $1,465,000. Newer and custom homes of the same size did not clear $1.5M this summer, which sets the top.

SECTION 07 · YOUR NET PROCEEDS

What a sale would put in your hands.

Move the slider to see the net at any price in the range. Selling and closing costs cover commission including HST, plus legal fees.

SALE PRICE

$1,375,000

$1,250,000 $1,500,000

Selling and closing costs (commission at 5.65% incl. HST, plus legal)	− $79,688
Net proceeds before any mortgage payout	$1,295,313

Legal and closing estimated at $2,000. Mortgage payout, moving costs and the cost of the next home are not included.

Sale price	Selling and closing costs	Net proceeds
$1,325,000	$76,862	$1,248,138
$1,375,000	$79,687	$1,295,312
$1,425,000	$82,512	$1,342,488

At the Signature 5% package including HST, plus $2,000 legal.

Two ways to price it

	Price to value	Price sharply and hold offers
List price	$1,399,000–$1,429,000	$1,299,000 with an offer date one week after listing
What the evidence shows	Homes priced to their comparables sold at 96–100% of list in two to four weeks	Atrium listed at $1,298,888 and sold for $1,465,000 in 10 days; Tanis listed at $1,399,999 and sold for $1,485,870 in 13 days
Likely outcome	$1,350,000–$1,410,000	$1,375,000–$1,450,000 with two or more buyers competing; a floor near $1,325,000 if not
Risk	A single-buyer negotiation	A one-buyer offer night, followed by a re-price. Dalmatian shows the opposite risk: opening at $1,480,000 cost it 90 days and $230,000

A mid-October listing would catch the fall market before the holiday slowdown.

SECTION 08 · THE SECOND OPTION

Staying in the home and accessing the equity.

A reverse mortgage lets homeowners aged 55 and over borrow against the home with no monthly payments. Interest is added to the balance and compounds, and the loan is repaid when the home is sold, when the owners move out permanently, or from the estate. Title stays with the owners and the lender guarantees the balance can never exceed the home's value. Because the advance is a loan rather than income, it is not taxed.

Two structures are shown below at 6.5%, with the home rising 2% a year. Lenders require the home to be the borrowers' principal residence and treat an extended absence as a repayment trigger, so eligibility needs to be confirmed with the lender before this option is relied on.

A · $620,000 lump sum

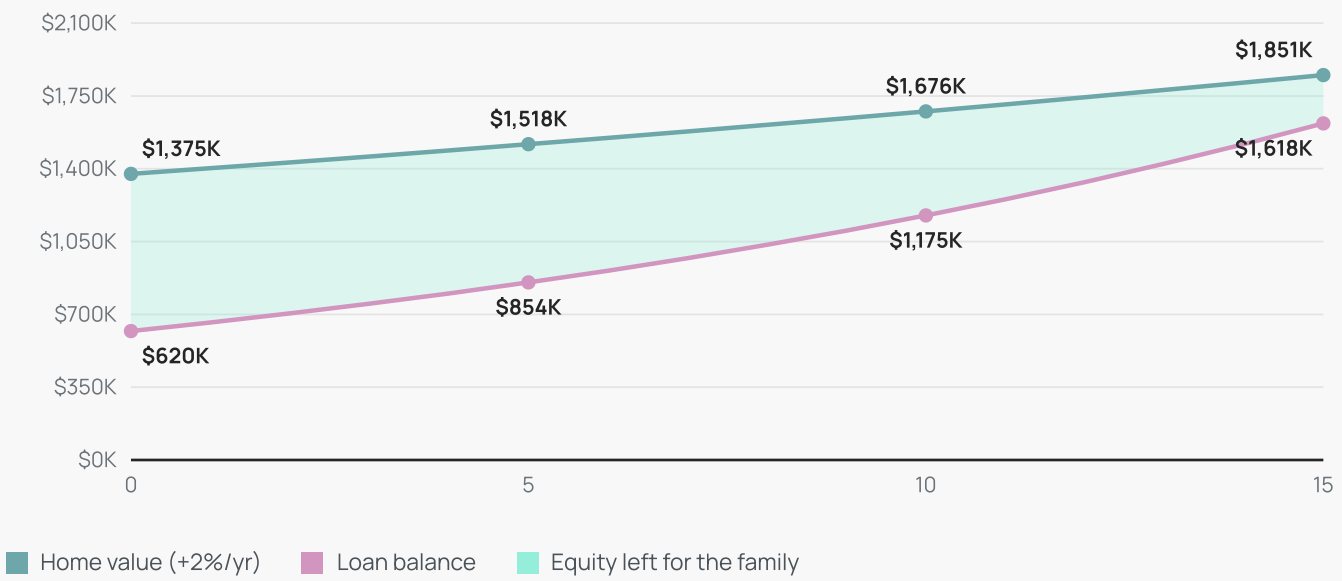

$620,000

≈ $3,400 / mo

HOME VALUE VS. LOAN BALANCE, YEARS 0–15

Year	Loan balance	Interest accumulated	Equity at +2% a year
Year 0	$620,000	$0	$755,000
Year 5	$854,000	$234,000	$664,000
Year 10	$1,175,000	$555,000	$501,000
Year 15	$1,618,000	$998,000	$232,000

B · $20,000 + $3,000/mo

$541,000

$1,135,000

equity left for the family after 10 years at +2% a year

$395,000

HOME VALUE VS. LOAN BALANCE, YEARS 0–15

Year	Cash received	Loan balance	Interest accumulated	Equity at +2% a year
Year 0	$20,000	$20,000	$0	$1,355,000
Year 5	$200,000	$239,000	$39,000	$1,279,000
Year 10	$380,000	$541,000	$161,000	$1,135,000
Year 15	$560,000	$956,000	$396,000	$894,000

Monthly deposits continue until the approved limit is reached. The amount can be changed, paused or stopped.

	Option 1 · Sell now	Option 2 · Reverse mortgage
Cash in hand	About $1,295,312 at closing	$620,000 as a lump sum, or $20,000 now and $3,000 a month
Where the family lives	A new home, bought or rented from the proceeds	21 Heatherbank, for as long as one owner lives there
Cost of borrowing	None	About $555,000 over ten years on the lump sum, or $161,000 on the monthly draw
Future rise in value	Goes to the buyer	Stays with the family, net of the interest
Exposure to the market	None after closing	Full — a rising market rebuilds equity; a flat one erodes it as interest compounds
Estate	Proceeds held as cash or investments	The home passes to the family less the balance
Changing course later	Complete once closed	Repay early (penalties inside a term), sell at any time, or draw more later
Eligibility	No lender approval needed	Subject to appraisal, the younger owner's age, and the lender's position on owners who are away part of the year

IN SHORT

Selling converts the full equity to cash now, at today's value, and ends the family's exposure to this house; the trade-off is the move, and giving up any future rise in value. A reverse mortgage keeps the family at Heatherbank and releases tax-free cash, at a real cost: about $555,000 of interest over ten years on a lump sum, or about $161,000 on the monthly draw, paid from the home's value when it is eventually sold. On the numbers alone, selling gives the family the most value with the least uncertainty; the case for staying rests on how much the home itself matters and how long the family expects to be in it.

SECTION 09 · WORTH A CLOSER LOOK

A few things to work through before anything is signed.

These are flags, not advice. Each one is work our in-house professionals do as part of the file.

PRINCIPAL RESIDENCE	The home qualifies for the whole period of ownership: it was never rented, the owners lived in it at various points, and their child ordinarily inhabited it while studying at university. Because the owners have been non-residents of Canada for tax purposes for part of that time, the portion of the gain the exemption shelters depends on their residency status in each year. We will go through the residency history year by year and work towards the fullest exemption available.
CLEARANCE CERTIFICATE	A sale by non-resident owners requires a CRA clearance certificate (Form T2062). Until it is issued, the buyer's lawyer holds back 25% of the price in trust — about $343,750 at the midpoint. It should be filed as soon as an offer is accepted, and it is also where the principal residence claim is made.
REVERSE MORTGAGE ELIGIBILITY	Lenders require the home to be the borrowers' principal residence and expect the owners to live in it. An extended absence, generally more than six months in a year, can be treated as a permanent move and trigger repayment. The terms of any absence need to be settled with the lender before Option 2 is relied on.

HOW WE HELP

Our in-house professionals flag what deserves a closer look before it becomes a costly mistake, and make sure you take advantage of everything available to you. You get the analysis and the coordination as part of the file — not as a separate engagement, and not as a surprise at closing.

Flags for discussion, not legal or tax advice. Marshall Accounting and Tax Advisory is a separate firm; a formal opinion would be provided under its own engagement.

WHO BUYS A HOME LIKE YOURS

Three buyers, and the one your home is built for.

We looked at every detached sale of 2,800 sq ft or more across Rouge E11, Rouge E10, Highland Creek and Centennial this year — twenty homes. The pattern in what sold tells us who to market to.

Two thirds of them had finished basement bedrooms, and a third had a second kitchen. That is a multi-generational market, and your finished lower level and 60-foot lot speak directly to it.

The multi-generational family

Thirteen of the twenty large homes sold this year had basement bedrooms; seven had a second kitchen. These buyers are housing parents or adult children and need the square footage, the parking and a lower level that works. This is your strongest buyer — and your finished basement is exactly what they search for.

The move-up family from within Scarborough

Selling a 1,500–2,000 sq ft home nearby and trading up without leaving the schools or the community. They are price-sensitive on the gap, not the absolute number, which is why a sharp list price pulls them in. The cul-de-sac and Rouge Valley setting matter to this buyer more than finishes do.

The renovator

Buying the largest footprint on the best lot they can find and finishing it to their own taste. They pay for size, lot and location, and discount for décor. Your 3,307 sq ft on a 60-foot cul-de-sac lot is precisely what they are hunting. 4 Atrium Lane, unfinished basement and all, sold to this buyer for $166,000 over asking.

SYNERGY extract from MLS®, January–August 2026: detached sales of 2,800 sq ft or more in Rouge E11, Rouge E10, Highland Creek and Centennial Scarborough (20 sales, median $1,465,000, average 3,357 sq ft).

BEFORE YOU SIGN

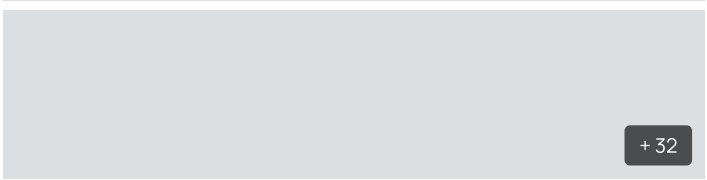

This is how your listing will look to a buyer.

Most sellers never see this until after the paperwork is signed. Below is the layout a buyer sees on REALTOR.ca, built with your home's own numbers — the photo grid, the price, the description. It is a preview, not a live listing.

The first photo and the first two lines of the description do most of the work. That is why photography, staging and copy are handled by us before anything goes live.

QUESTIONS SELLERS ASK

The things most people want to ask, answered before you have to.

What if it doesn't sell?

Then we adjust on evidence, not nerves. You get showing and traffic data weekly, and we agreed in advance what a slow first two weeks means. Most homes that stall were mispriced at launch or shown badly — both of which we handle before day one.

Why not just list high and see what happens?

Because the market reads it. 81 Dalmatian opened at $1,480,000 and took 90 days and $230,000 in reductions to sell. 4 Atrium opened sharply and sold for $166,000 over asking in ten days. The first ten days carry the most buyer attention you will ever get — the price has to be right when it matters.

Can I just do it myself, or use a discount brokerage?

You can. What you'd be taking on is the preparation, the photography, the ad spend, the showings, the negotiation and the paperwork — and carrying the risk on all of it. Our packages exist so you can choose how much of that you want handled.

How long does it actually take?

From the decision to list, about two weeks of preparation, then a firm sale typically in 30 to 60 days. Closing is usually 30 to 90 days after that, and the date is negotiable to suit you.

What will I actually walk away with?

Use the slider in the net proceeds section — it is your real numbers at any price. The only thing not shown is your mortgage payout, which your lender confirms in writing.

Do I pay anything if we don't sell?

No. Commission is earned on a completed sale. Staging, painting and photography at the Signature and Concierge levels are ours to carry.

Should I renovate first?

Usually not. Paint, decluttering and staging return far more per dollar than a kitchen does, and they take two weeks rather than three months. If a renovation genuinely makes sense for your home, we'll tell you — and manage it under the Concierge package.

What happens to my taxes?

That's the question most agents can't answer. Terrence is a CPA, so the tax picture gets reviewed as part of the file — principal residence, any clearance certificate, the timing across tax years — before you sign, not after closing.

Who will I actually be dealing with?

Terrence leads the file. Behind him is a five-agent team, plus in-house legal and accounting. You are never waiting on one person's calendar, and nothing sits because someone is away.

What if I change my mind?

Tell us. We'd rather pause a listing than push a family into a sale they aren't ready for. We've built this business on families who came back and who sent their relatives.

FROM HERE TO SOLD

What the next six weeks would look like.

This week	Walkthrough and room-by-room review of the finishes. Residency history and clearance certificate paperwork started. Package and pricing confirmed.
Early October	Paint, declutter and stage. Photography, video, aerial drone, floor plans and copy produced.
Mid October	Go live: MLS®, paid social and digital campaign, agent database, five-agent push, open house on the first weekend.
First 30 days	Showing and traffic data reviewed with you weekly. Offers negotiated. Adjustments made on evidence, not guesswork.
Every month	You keep getting our market data. We publish our own MLS® pull on the 1st, before the board's release on the 7th or 8th. During your listing that means we can see a shift and respond to it — whether to take an offer now or hold — while other agents are still waiting for the report.

NEXT STEPS

I'll follow up with you both in the coming days.

Please take your time with this. If it would help, we can set up a meeting to go through the comparables and both options in more detail, and I'm glad to answer questions by phone or email in the meantime. This page stays live and we keep it current as the market moves — scan the code on the printed copy to open it on your phone.
